is now in progress in St. Louis, the counsel for the plaintiff, in opening the case, made a long speech, in the course of which he laid down these symptoms of courtship:

down these symptoms of courtship:

"It is appropriate to may in this connection, lest an objection should be raised, which it is casy to forecee may be raised, that the scores of little things, actions, expressions, looks, tones, secents, gifts, vinits, which make up the commerce of love and courtship, depend for their cumulative character upon the number and frequency of them, and on the whole taken together. Such sort of proof is not like that of a logical chain of successive links, in which the strength of the chain is not at all greater than that of its weaker link. Nor is it like that of a series of facts in a chain of circumstancial evidence. chain is not at all greater than that of its weaker link. Nor is it like that of a series of fauta in a chain of circumstancial evidence, each fact being absolutely essential to the chain, and to fastening conviction in the mind of a jury—the absence of one being fatal. But the kind of evidence of which we have been speaking finds its illustration in the faggot of sticks, any one of which may be broken. But taken together, and no force of ingenuity can bend dr break them. Any one of the separate incidents of a courtship may carry very little meaning. A gift of flowers may be a mere act of neighborly courtesy or compliment. The presentation of a book may betoken nothing more than gratified friendship. A kiss, not amorous or sengual, may be the index simply of a perfect friendly understanding and confidence. Any one of these, taken by itself, may tell no particular story. But visits running through months, with innumerable evidences of exclusive preference, all unite and concentrate in one woman, they do tell a very particular story, and, in their accumulated shape, are satisfactory evidence of a solicitation to marry; and if the attentions are accepted and enjoyed, the contract is complete.

THE OUTRAGEOUS ARUSE OF WITNESSES BY LAWYERS.—In the Carstang-Shaw breach of promise case, in St. Louis, on Thursday, they had considerable difficulty in getting Rebecca had considerable difficulty in getting Rebecca Laumann, formerly a German servant-woman in the Carstang family, to appear in the Court to testify, for the reason as she said that she did not mean to submit to such in-dignities again as she had submitted to at the former trial, and that if it was necessary she would sooner leave the State than submit to them. She, however, aubmitted, and gave an account of the courtship of Mr. Shaw and Many lawyers need horse-whipping more than any class of men we know: they bully and insult nervous men and women as if they had received a patent from nature for being blackguards.

THE WHITE AND NEGRO RACES OF THE UNITED STATES.—The relation of the races in 1860 will be—Whites, 27,000,000; Colored, (Slaves, 4,000,000; Free, 500,000,) 4,500,000. The colored race will make 14½ per cent. of the entire population. The proportions of the two races to each other, since the establishment of the Government, will be as follows: In 1790, the colored race were of the whole, 19 per cent.; in 1800, 19 do.; in 1810, 19 do.; in 1820, 18 do.; in 1830, 17 do.; in 1840, 17 do.; in 1830, 16 do.; in 1830, 17 do.; in 1840, 17 do.; in 1850, 16 the white race has diminished five per cent, and is at the present time decreasing at a more rapid rate. If none of foreign birth should immigrate to this country, still the white race will increase four per cent. faster than the black race. THE WHITE AND NEGRO RACES OF THE UNITED than the black race. Varied Celebration of St. Patrick's Day.—St. Patrick's Day in New York was celebrated by a procession of ten thousand sons of Erin, by sundry festivals and two eulogies on the Saint, in which the speakers claimed for him the merit, not only of expelling the frogs and all other vermin from Ireland, but also of writing three hundred and sixty-five hishops and three hundred and sixty-five bishops and three hundred and sixty-five thousand priests. The day's entertainments were wound up by a grand dog and rat fight among certain of the more enthusiastic.

AN AMBITIOUS LUNATIC.—A lunatic named Affred Elliott, who some months since attempted to penetrate into Windsor Castle under the delusion that he was Duke of York and Prince of Wales, has been again threatening to force admission into her Majesty's presence, with a view of establishing his right to occupy the position of the Prince of Wales. Perhaps there was an amorous method in his rudeness, and he desired to discharge the functions of Prince Albert.

New Game at Billiaros.—A man called at a gentleman's house, in New York, and said he was sent by the makers of his billiard-table to inspect his billiard-cues. He was shown into the billiard-room, where, after looking at the cues and pulling off several leathers, he picked out nine cues to take with him; but the servant-girl was not quite foolish enough to allow the fellow to carry them off. The billiard-table maker of course had given no order. given no order.

WAR AGAINST THE NEW YORK "SHYSTERS. Acting General Superintendent Carpenter has instructed the officers detailed at the lower Police Court, of New York, to use their utmost exertions to prevent the fleecing of strangers by pretended lawyers or "shysters." as they are commonly called, and to arrest all of this class who are discovered button-holing persons in or about the Court-room for the purpose of cheating them.

JULLIEN, THE GREAT CONCERT HERO, ATTEMPTS SUICIDE.—M. Jullien, the king of orchestra managers, recently attempted suicide, in Europe, by stabbing himself with a dirk presented him by one of his mistresses. Love and finances were the causes of his attempt to leave life; but at last accounts he was recovering with an increased stock of was recovering, with an increased stock of resignation, and the prospect of yet presiding at several thousand monster concerts.

A Useless Overer Bed.—It is said that the great oyster bed discovered in Long Island Sound last summer, has proved a sad failure. When first taken from the waters of the Sound, they are unpalatable, because of excessive saltiness, and when transferred to fresh water, they sicken and die. The discovery is consequently worthless. covery is consequently worthless, DEATH OF A VENERABLE MILESIAN,-On the 8th inst., Darby Lenihan died at Waterford, Ireland, at the age of one hundred and twelve years. He possessed all his faculties within a few days of his death, and walked in an erect manner on the quay at Waterford within the last month.

An Entrusiastic Husband,—The editor of the Ohio Cultisator, who was only married week before last, was out with a column leader in last week's paper on—"Great are the uses of a baby." He is certainly, to use a vulgar saw, "counting chickens before they are hatched."

A MURDERER DECLARED INSANE.—In Capt. Mallett's case, Dr. Chapin, Physician of Kings County, N. Y., Insane Asylum, testified that from a protracted interview with the accused, he believes him to be insane, and that he thought he had not yet fully recovered from his recent attack.

A Swinning Flower-ware.—A Paris flower-dealer has been arrested for selling to a lady what appeared to be a magnificent bouquet of natural flowers, but of which many of the flowers, and particularly the roses, were of paper.

From present indications the Pacific Rail-road Committee of the House will probably reconsider, at the meeting on Mondey, the mon steamers, the instructions to our naval officers in the gulf, &c. Dispatches, with full information as to the occurrences, are on their way from New Orleans, and the Preble will no doubt bring further authentic information. The instructions which were a few days ago given to Mr. McLane, and through him to our naval officers, will not be communicated, because they have not been acted upon, but probably there were no instructions which could bear upon the case of the capture, because there had been no opportunity to send out any for a month past. Brave Arrests of Usportunate Women. The New York police made a descent on the unfortunate females who make a nightly practice of promenading Broadway, a few nights since, and arrest of thirty of them.—One poor creature said she had not tasted food for two days. The police of all our leading cities seem to have a passionate fondness for arresting and all ssing this most help-less and friendless class of God's creatures.

The captures were not made under any instructions, for it could not have been anticipated. The Senators and Members, together with General Forbes Britten, appeared before the House Military Committee to-day, and urged, with great rehemence, the appropriation of a million and a quarter dollars for the Texas mounted regiment. The committee adjourned until to-morrow, when the subject will be again reviewed, and some definite action had.

Sardinia.—The Opinione, of Turin, asserts that the Governments of Chambray, Savoy and Nice are about to publish a proclamation in accordance with the views contained in Cavour's note of March 2.

Turin, March 10.—The official Gazette publishes Farino's reply to Cavour's message of the 29th of February. He says if the form of the new vote is not decided upon, he should choose universal suffrage. The acts of Rome have destroyed any possibility of a Vicarate, as proposed by France, upon the Romagna. He guarantees full and absolute liberty in voting.

A dispatch from Cavour to Ricasola, dated 29th of February, communicates the French idea relating to the settlement of the Central Italy question. Cavour says the assurances of the French Government show that the election of a Prince of the house of Savoy would be opposed by France.

Whatever may be the result of the new vote of Tuscany, the King will accept beforehand. Ricasola, in a dispatch to Cavour, dated 4th March, denies that Tuscany aspires without reflection to the union with Piedmont. He says:

"Every thing confirms the opinion that they were right in freeing themselves from Austria."

Pans, Saturday.—The Constitutionnel has a semi-official article against the adoption of universal suffrage, as applied to the doctrine of national sovereignty; a false extension of the principle may become an incessant source of trouble and danger to Europe, though an extension is about to take place in Italy, in opposition to the Imperial policy, and to the counsels given by France.

Arrest of an Alleged Murderer.

Providence, R. I., March 24.—The alleged murderer of Captain Barr, of the Islip, oyster vessel, has been arrested. Last night detective officer Geo. Niven, with Captain Smith, an attache of the New York Times, assisted by Officer George Billings, of the Providence police, arrested at the house of James Butts, near the Lockwatton House, a man by the name of Alfred W. Hicks, who is charged with three murders on board the sloop. charged with three murders on board the sloop charged with three murders on board the sloop.

A. E. Johnson, of Islip. Hicks hails from Foster, in this State, where he has six brothers, farmers. His wife, an Irish woman, and a child eleven months old, are with him. He came here from Fall River on Thursday morning, and took board with a respectable widow lady named Crowell, who occupies a part of Mr. Buttis' shouse.

Railroad Convention.

New York, March 24.—The Railroad Convention adjourned to-day, after adopting a new time-table, and appointing a committee to meet a committee from the Louisville Convention, at Buffalo, Tuesday next, to arrange the time-tables adopted by each Convention, so as to insure prompt and reliable connections with all Southern and South-western lines. C. Vibbard, A. Stone, jr., C. G. Hammond, C. J. Brydges, B. W. Blanchard and M. M. Cohen are the committee. The Pennsylvania roads did not join the convention in the adoption of the new time-table, but it is understood that if a moderate speed be adopted at Buffalo, the Pennsylvania roads will unite with the others in the new arrangements. rangements.

A SON KILLS HIS FATHER IN DEFENSE OF A Sox Kills his Father in Defense of his Mother.—Joseph Rutledge, residing near Talladega, Alabama, was killed by his own son, a few nights since. He went home drunk and compelled his wife, who was in bed sick, to get up, and then commenced abusing her; his son coming in, remonstrated with him against the abuse of his mother. Rutledge swore he would kill the whole of them, and turned on the son and commenced beating him. In the scuffle the son fell, and while Rutledge we's on him, the son drew his knife and inflicted the wounds which caused Rutledge's death in a few minutes after. The Rutledge's death in a few minutes after. The old man got up, however, and holding on to his stick, swore that he would kill them all;

his wife caught hold of him, and in a moment after he sunk down and died. New Safety-Lamp for Miners.—A new safety-lamp for miners has been patented, after several years work on the invention, by Messrs. Howden, of the Union Foundery, Wakefield, England. It is in appearance and construction like an ordinary Davy lamp, but gives out a light equal to almost five of Davy's. It is so constructed that instead of the gauze becoming heated and liable to ignite inflammable gas, it remains quite cool, and actually consumes the moxious vapor. and actually consumes the noxious vapor. Successive trials, with the Stephenson lamp, in the most dangerous parts of the coal-pits in the neighborhood of Wakefield, demonstrated its superiority over the latter.

The Benefit of Coppes in the Cold Regions.—Dr. Hayes, of Arctic fame, in his recently published work, expresses the opinion, based upon experience, that to men living on short allowance of food, in a cold climate, where special stimuli are required, there is nothing as valuable as coffee. Tea is not much prized by explorers in frozen regions. To Arctic travelers, the Doctor adds, spirits in any form are worse than useless; while coffee is always grateful and beneficial.

A Specimen of Southern Hospitality,—
The Charleston Courier, in an article upon the subject of the expected rush to the approaching Convention, says:—"During the presence of that promiscuous crowd, the private doors of Charleston will never bave been so tightly shut and carefully guarded as then. She will confer more watching than hospitality upon the 'camp followers' who go to swarm at the assembling of a National Convention."

DIRECT TRADE BETWEEN C'LIFORNIA AND THE MEDITERRANEAN.—The San Franciscaus have established a direct fruit trade with the Mediterranean. The 'fruit clipper,' Ida D. Rogers recently arrived there in one hundred and forty-four days from the Straits of Gibraltar, with a cargo of raisins, lemons, filberts, and almonds, in excellent condi-

QUEER POLITICAL WAGER.—On the late election for local officers in Norfolk, Va., two prominent politicians made a bet, agreeing between them that the loser shall stand, for one whole day, upon a fire-plug or hydrant in front of the Court-house, and engage industriously in pedding apples. During the past year the Bible Society of Charleston, S. C., has gratuitously distributed four hundred and thirty-nine Bibles and three handred and seventy-nine Testaments.
